

SUMMER AT SHIDLER

PACIFIC ASIAN MANAGEMENT INSTITUTE

PAMI Certificate Program Overview

The Pacific Asian Management Institute (PAMI) is the center for international business programs with an Asia-Pacific focus at the Shidler College of Business. PAMI's Summer Program offers certificates in

- International Management
- International Entrepreneurship

Students can earn academic credits for the undergraduate or graduate courses that they take during the course of the various programs. Summer classes in the PAMI program are open to students and professionals from all disciplines and others interested in international business. The varied backgrounds of the students (Business, Political Science, Economics, Public Administration, Engineering, etc.), many of whom already have real world experience, adds to the value of the classes. Faculties are drawn from the University of Hawaii and other universities around the world.

Eligibility: Undergraduate and graduate students from all academic disciplines, professionals and others interested in various aspects of global trade, international business, and entrepreneurship.

Requirements:

- 1. Complete three PAMI courses. Subject to approval, continuing UH students may substitute one 3-credit course that has sufficient international content for one of the three required PAMI courses.
- 2. Attend at least four of the Pacific Asian Lecture Series (PALS) offered throughout both Summer Sessions.
